

PLAN PROMISES AID TO LABORS

Legislature Will Meet At Four O'clock In The Afternoon In The Future.

COMMITTEE SESSIONS IN MORNING

Idea Was Evolved By Senator Whitehead And Others To Facilitate The Work Of The Present Session
As Much As Possible.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Jan. 23.—A scheme to make a legislative work about twice as industriously as the best of them have ever worked in Wisconsin has been evolved by Senator John M. Whitehead, Senator A. W. Sanborn of Ashland, Speaker Herman L. Ekern of Arcadia and other members and will be placed in operation next week. It is to hold the daily sessions of the senate and assembly at 4 o'clock instead of at 10 in the morning, and to devote five hours instead of three daily to committee work.

Present Way
Now the two houses meet at 10 in the morning, hold their routine sessions and adjourn for a day. The morning is spent at smoking and other diversions, including reading of the newspapers. In the afternoon the committees leisurely get together. The new scheme is to meet at 4 in the morning for roll call, then immediately go into committees and work until noon, get back at 2 o'clock and work until 4, when the routine of the day will be gone through.

Double Efficiency
Members who approve this scheme say it will double the efficiency of the legislative machinery and will greatly shorten the session by expediting business. They also declare that the resultant legislation will be more thoroughly accomplished.

Other Schemes
Another scheme for saving time and expense, for every day of prolonged session costs thousands of dollars, is to classify the bills according to the subjects they treat, and take up one subject at a time. It has been determined to take up the matter of reappointing the state in senate and assembly districts during the week of February 18, the matter of regulation of public service corporations during the week of February 25 and the matter of insurance during the week of March 4.

Other Plans
Other subjects will be stated as soon as the bills are introduced and classified. Some members do not look with favor upon these innovations, but all agree that it is desirable to get the work up as fast as practicable and go home.

Start Campaign
Social democrats in Wisconsin legislature have started a campaign in the interests of labor unions, which if successful may place the manufacturer at the mercy of these organizations. A bill introduced in the assembly today by Allred, which provides that no company or corporation should defend its property from union strikes or riots, with use of arms except by special permission granted by the governor of the state. Violation of this provision is a felony and the bill provides that whenever labor dispute arises the plant shall be virtually placed in the hands of a receiver all information concerning the operation of the plant shall be available to officers of the striking unionists and no measure for protection of property shall be taken without the governor especially permits.

Other Measures
Senator Roehr offered a bill to prevent the intermarriage of insane, feeble minded persons or epileptics. Other bills by Wehrwein, to divide the railroad taxes among the counties through which railroads run; by Norcross, appropriating $20,000 annually for two years to the Wisconsin Geological and Natural History survey for experimenting in road building and to extend the investigation in lead and zinc districts; by Keppel, for verdicts of the majority; by Hagemeister, giving the tax commission power to regulate the issue stocks and bonds by corporations; by Barker, to build Wisconsin capitol exclusively of Wisconsin granite.

Spanish Lottery
Annual Game Held and Awards Announced—Goal Prisoners Won $6,000 on Joint Ticket.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madrid, Jan. 23.—Once more the great Spanish lottery, which is an annual event at holiday time, has come and gone. Amid the usual scene of breathless excitement, $4,746 was proclaimed to be the winning number of the capital prize of $1,000,000. The ticket bearing this number was divided into tenths, and these again subdivided into fractions, so that over 700 persons might be said to have an interest in it. Most of these people belonged to the poorer classes of Alicante, where few now reign supreme. Some touching stories are told of some of the lucky gamblers. One poor shopkeeper of Bilbao was on the point of being closed out for debt when the news of his winning arrived just in the nick of time to save him from ruin. A workman, whose sick child needed expensive treatment, drew $600. A young man whose marriage had been put off for lack of funds, was overjoyed at being made the recipient of $800. Senor Agullo, an innkeeper of Alicante, is one of fortune's favorites. One of his employees had obtained leave to purchase a small share in his master's ticket, but had been unable to find the money to pay for it. On hearing the luck he had just missed by a hair's breadth, the poor fellow burst into tears, whereupon Senor Agullo generously paid him his share. The prisoners in the town gaol combined to buy one ticket, which won for them $6,000.

WEALTHY INSANE WOMAN DYING IN A SANITARIUM

Margaret Winthrop Folsom, Worth Four Million, Victim Of Violent Attacks---
Has Been Demented Thirty-Eight Years.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Jan. 23.—Margaret Winthrop, known as the wealthiest insane woman in the world, is reported to be dying in a sanitarium at Waverly, Mass. There she has spent most of the thirty-eight years since she was declared incompetent to conduct an estate which she inherited in 1872. The estate was extremely large for those days, and is now enormous. It consists almost entirely of realty in this city, and is probably close to $4,000,000 in actual value.
Half a century ago the Folsom family was one of the most prominent in society and politics in this state. Today her only relative and heir is her brother, George Winthrop Folsom. He collects an income of $150,000 a year from the thirty-eight properties which he owns and from the bonds, stocks and mortgages, amounting to $250,000, included in her estate. For his services as committee of her person and estate he is allowed $30,000 by the supreme court each year.
Miss Folsom is sixty-four years old. Her malady is marked by recurrent periods of insanity, which of late have been increasing in violence, and now threaten to end her life. In 1869, after an exhaustive inquisition, Miss Folsom was adjudged insane and incompetent to care for herself or administer her affairs. Her sister, Helen Folsom, and George, the brother, were named as the committee. Miss Helen Folsom resigned in 1871, on changing her residence to England, and has since died, leaving no heirs with any claim on her sister's estate. Since then the brother has been acting alone. While her father, George Folsom, a well-known antiquary and diplomat, was alive, Miss Folsom was cared for in the family home. After his death, in March, 1869, it became necessary to send her to a sanitarium. In the sanitarium she has been constantly attended by a retinue of nurses and servants and everything that money can buy has been given her to add to her comfort or gratify her slightest wish.

UNCLE SAM TO AID OF CZAR'S FARMERS

Nine Big Ships Bearing 3,000 Carloads of Harvesting Machinery Now on Way to Russian Ports.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Jan. 23.—Nine big steamers, specially chartered for the trade, are now on their way from the United States to Russian ports on the Black and Baltic seas. This fleet is bearing 3,000 carloads of harvesting machinery manufactured in this country, and representing the value of fully $5,000,000. In addition to these complete shiploads, partial cargoes will be forwarded by the regular line boats, which will bring the total shipments to north and south Russia close to 100,000 tons for this season.
This rapidly growing trade with Russia in this special line of manufacture is distinctly pleasing to the Washington authorities. It means that American manufacturers have little to fear from foreign competition under existing business conditions at home. Through concentration of effort, United States manufacturers, although paying the highest wages paid in any country in the world, have been able to work such economies in production that they are able to compete successfully with the employers of the cheap labor of Europe. In addition, this concentration of effort has enabled the manufacturers of this special product to keep down the prices of machinery in the face of the constantly rising cost of raw materials.
According to official figures the International Harvester Company, the greatest manufacturer of farm machinery in the world, is not the only corporation that has managed to attain this end. The same condition is found in many other lines of trade and in every case it is attributable to economies in the actual work of manufacture.
Of the great shipment of machinery now on its way to Russia six entire cargoes of reapers, mowers, harvesters, rakes, etc., will go to Odessa and Novorossok on the Black Sea. Three complete shiploads are consigned to the Russian port of Vladivostok on the Pacific Sea, for distribution through all the steamers that are to be carried by the line boats (will be sent from New York).

QUESTION OF H. S. NEW

There is Talk of Trying to Oust Him From National Chairmanship.

(Special Correspondence.)
Washington, D. C., January 23.—For many months the newspapers and others put up a call on Mr. Cortelyou to resign the chairmanship of the Republican National committee, and many times the rumor went forth that he was about to sever his connection with the committee, and on one occasion, at least, Mr. Harry S. New, of Indiana, vice chairman, was called to Washington, and it was at once given out that he would immediately assume direction of the affairs of the committee. But there was a hitch some way, but nobody seems to know just what, and Mr. Cortelyou hung on to his job. Some people said it was because Mr. New was from Indiana, the state of Vice President Fairbanks, and as Mr. Fairbanks was one of those most frequently spoken of as a probable candidate before the next convention, the keeping of Mr. New in the background was for the purpose that Mr. Fairbanks should have no advantage over other probable candidates. Others said that Mr. Cortelyou would not resign until the question whether it was proper to accept campaign contributions from corporations was settled. Whatever the cause Mr. Cortelyou did not resign until after his name was sent to the senate for secretary of the treasury.

Now that he has resigned the fight on Captain New continues. Senator Scott, who is himself a member of the committee has declared that the committee ought to be called together to accept the resignation of Mr. Cortelyou and designate his successor. It was given out that Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, would join him in this demand, but this has been denied. It is probable a call for a meeting of the committee will be circulated. There may be a colored gentleman hidden away in all this, but no one seems to know who is to be the beneficiary. The time for the nomination is more than a year off yet, but the shaping of matters in advance of the meeting of the convention is about due. It is not like it was in 1896 when McKinley so towered above all other possible candidates as to make his nomination an assured fact long before the assembling of the convention. Up to the present time it is anybody's race. Foraker, Shaw, Root, Taft, and Fairbanks are all on the waiting list. They stand for radically different policies. Vice President Fairbanks is the conservative one of the lot, but Mr. Foraker is also classed as an opponent of many of the most extreme measures of President Roosevelt. Shaw, Taft and Root have each been the upholders of all the policies advocated by the President. It is true that Taft disclosed a desire to kick a little over the traces at the order making the whole sale discharge of the colored troops, but that was only tentative and he has become one of the warmest defenders of the President on that issue. Mr. Root has taken a very advanced stand on increasing the power of the federal government, and especially for increasing that of the President. So far as the world knows Mr. Shaw has also stood very firmly

Catarrh of the Stomach

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure for It.

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, tickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harrison, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, Little Nux, Gold, Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. R. S. Workman, Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found fresh appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, Catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

behind the President in all things. To him there has been manifested some opposition among the moneyed classes and some of his financial proposals have been severely frowned upon. Each of these three cabinet officers took an active part in the recent campaign and their speeches attracted wide attention. In the senate Mr. Foraker is standing in the limelight, and just at present is attracting more attention than any of the others. The Vice President, grave and dignified, is regarded as the strongest representative of conservatism. But all this does not settle why it is a new chairman is to be urged at this time. About the only thing the committee will have to do before it passes from the stage of action will be to fix a time and place for holding the convention, and for the temporary organization of the convention. A committee never has been able to dictate the nominee and it is doubtful if it has ever been able to exercise much influence in that direction. But if Senator Scott wants a meeting and a new chairman it is more than likely he will win out.

The United States senate is an accommodating body—to its majority members. Every member of the majority must have a chairmanship, in order that he may have a committee clerk at a good round salary, and a messenger also drawing liberally from the public purse. Sometimes the number of the majority is greater than the number of committees provided for. In such cases a new committee is created. It is not necessary for the new committee to ever meet, in fact it is not expected to meet; it will have no business to transact if it should meet, but the room assigned to it makes a good loafing place for senators when they grow tired of their duties and went to rest and swap jokes. It is always supposed that a new member brings with him a supply of fresh stories and the older senators must catch on to them, so, as a rule, the room of the new committee is very popular for awhile. The last to be placed at the head of one of these extemporized committees is Senator D. P. of Delaware. Of course his committee had to have a name, and it was baptized, "Committee on Ventilation and Acoustics." It must not be supposed that it is to have any "muck raking" privileges because it has to do with ventilation, and as all the senators are mild-spoken men acoustics will not cut much of a figure with them. But, then, what difference does it make what name is given to it, so the room is provided and the clerk and messenger draw their pay?

The free seed business has broken out before the senate committee on agriculture and the opponents of the appropriation have been before the committee in strong force. The chances are that this ancient perquisite will have to go this session, as the agricultural classes have taken a very decided stand against its continuance.

The Cuban situation does not appear to bother congress as much as was supposed before the session opened. From all signs visible congress is willing to leave the whole matter with the President, going on the principle that it is a good thing to "let well enough alone." It is pretty generally conceded, however, that should the American troops be withdrawn and another native government installed, a new resolution would break out in a few months, if not in a few days. It takes a generation or two before a Spanish-American people will reach the point of maintaining a stable government. Mexico had to pass through a long grilling before an end came to revolutions, and some of the Central and South American states are still having troubles of that sort. Permanent peace will come, after awhile, to all of them.

WASHINGTON HAS ITS OWN IDEAS

SAYS TAFT WILL NOT BE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE.

GENERAL GOSSIP ON LAWS

What the Next Few Weeks May Bring as Regards Legislation.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 23.—There is a strong growing belief that William H. Taft, when he lays aside the duties of Secretary of War, will not do so for the purpose of entering into the scramble for the presidency. This statement is made in spite of the fact that Secretary Taft only a few days ago declared he was in a receptive mood so far as the nomination was concerned. It is now openly declared that this public statement was made for the purpose of forcing the hand of Senator Foraker and others who are said to be attempting to effect a combine against the administration's control of the next convention.

Mr. Taft, according to well-defined reports, has his eye on the supreme bench and entertains an ambition to succeed Chief Justice Fuller, whose resignation is expected at an early day. At the time Secretary Taft refused the offer of the ermine, which later went to Attorney General Moody, it was openly reported that all of his ambitions lay in that direction, but that he was determined to remain at his post until the Cuban embargo was settled, the Philippine matter straightened out, and the Panama Canal, which comes under the jurisdiction of this department, was well under way. The fact that Mr. Taft is preserving a sphinx-like silence in the face of this report, is taken to indicate that there is considerable truth in it.

Senator Alger of Michigan and Representative Lacey of Iowa have come to be known as the "legislative twins." The resemblance between the two members of congress is striking. Both of the same height, each keeps his iron-gray whiskers trimmed in precisely the same style, while the likeness extends almost to the numbers of their gray hairs, which are carefully brushed in order to conceal the bald spot on their respective domes of thought. Their dress is precisely alike, and each affects the statesman's black frock coat. Senator Alger is five years older than Mr. Lacey, however, having been born in 1836. He was born in Ohio, while Mr. Lacey is a native of Virginia.

Even the most conservative government officials have evinced surprise at the statement just issued by the Department of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor, concerning the value of manufactures exported from this country in the last year. This trade has aggregated more than $700,000,000—a figure hitherto never approached by this country, and the United States now ranks third in the value of manufactures entering the world's commerce. That this condition should prevail in the face of such a congestion of transportation facilities as the country has suffered during the last few months, is little short of remarkable. Advocates of waterways development are asking what this report would have presented had the great rivers of the country been improved so as to admit of their use as carriers of the products of factories and mills. They declared that once the natural channels of labor and commerce are bettered so as to permit of their carrying trade, the United States will jump from a third place and may possibly lead the world. The National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which has been in session and out the necessity for a widespread development of the rivers and harbors of the country by the federal government, is redoubling its efforts to increase the commercial prestige of the country. The organization is especially anxious that this development work be accomplished before the opening of the Panama Canal, so that the great benefits that will follow the opening of the big ditch across the Isthmus will be felt simultaneously on both coasts. In an official call sent out to cities and towns, waterway development organizations and commercial bodies, firms and individuals, through its secretary, J. F. Ellison of Cincinnati, Ohio, the congress is appealing for a greater membership. At the present time it counts its members at nearly forty states, but it is seeking to take in the entire country and include every organized and firm of the kind in the entire nation. The administration is watching the growth of this organization with much interest. The national congress, once it is appealed to by a body having such widespread influence, will be glad to join hands in the prosecution of the necessary development work. The individual congressmen will have at their backs an organization to which they can point in explanation of their votes and of their work.

Would Amend Constitution.
Madison, Wis., Jan. 23.—Several amendments to the state constitution are provided for in resolutions introduced in the assembly Tuesday, as follows: To enact a law providing for recall of state officers by electors, to provide a separate government for Milwaukee; to levy a direct tax for highway improvement. Other assembly bills provide among other things that street car employees may work but nine hours, the hours to be consecutive. A bill raising the age limit of working children to 16 years was also introduced.

wealth. The fact that the laws are sufficient to cope with these big producing agencies, instead of lending confidence to the public that its rights are safe, seems to have stirred up a feeling of enmity against all these agencies. The honestly conducted corporation is a powerful agency for good, as the administration has proved by the last report of the department of commerce and labor in which it is shown that the country's exports have reached $700,000,000—a figure never attained before. The administration is desirous of controlling these corporations wisely and regards with apprehension the tendency of the people to destroy altogether an agency which has made for the wonderful prosperity of the United States.

The deadly auto has won the approval of Uncle Sam. For some months past automobiles have been in use in Baltimore for the collection of mail, and they have proved so satisfactory that the postoffice department has decided to establish this method of handling mail in other cities. The Baltimore test was begun under disadvantage, for the postal authorities did not believe at the time that the "devil wagon" ever could supersede the horse for this purpose. It has been developed that the automobile does not only make the handling of mail easier but that considerable time is saved.

The hysteria for mining investments that has seized the country is likely to be a prominent subject before the Sixtieth congress. At present there are no laws whatever for the protection of the innocent investor against the numerous wildcat schemes that have appeared lately. Both Senator Dick, chairman of the senate committee on mines and mining, and Congressman Brown of Wisconsin, chairman of the corresponding committee in the house, are agreed that some legislation is needed. Neither, however, believes that any action will be taken at this session because of the pressure of unfinished business, and the necessity for getting the big appropriation bills out of the way before adjournment in March. Such a bill will have the undoubted support of all the reputable mining enterprises in the country. The reputable enterprises have suffered vastly by the unprincipled actions of unscrupulous promoters. Under the existing laws it is impossible for either the bona fide mining man or the defrauded investor to take action against this class of gentry, for trading on the reputation of the big strikes made by such men as are real producers. It is hoped that the next congress will remedy this condition of affairs, placing the mining industry on the same plane as that of agriculture. Government economists long have recognized that the nation's wealth is in its soil, and if good crops insure prosperity there is every reason to believe that a sane and healthful supervision of the mining industry will tend further insurance. The ultimate object of the friends of federal regulation is to have the mining industry looked after by a regular department, such as now gives its entire attention to the needs of agriculture.

Bill Now Before Congress Would Mean Much For General Safety.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Washington, D. C., January 23.—The coast artillery bill which is now being considered by the senate provides for an increase during the next five years of 296 officers of all grades and an increase of 5043 in the number of coast artillerymen, together with an increase of 558 field artillerymen. The number of electrician sergeants is increased from 100 to 148. These one hundred electrician sergeants now draw $24 per month each with allowances. The one hundred and forty-eight provided for in the bill are divided into two classes; seventy-four of them will draw $35 per month, and seventy-four will draw $45 per month each, allowances being made for both classes. The total increase in cost for these special services will be $30,240. An additional master electrician is provided at a cost of $900. Sixty engineers are provided at $780 per annum, a total of $46,800. Forty-two master gunners at $495 each, are provided for the total cost being $17,130; also sixty firemen at $360 per annum a total of $21,600. Slight increases of pay are given as follows: 44 casemate electricians, $108 per annum; 170 observers, first class, $108 per annum; 170 plotters, $108 per annum; 44 chief planners, $84 per annum; 44 chief loaders, $84 per annum; 170 observers, second class, $84 per annum; 378 gun pointers, $84 per annum, all in addition to their present pay, which is that of a sergeant or corporal, or $18 and $16 per month respectively, with certain allowances for length of service. In this connection it is worth noting that a gun commander in the coast artillery receives $24 per month while a turret captain in the navy gets $50 to $70 per month. Gunners in the coast artillery stationed at guns of eight inch or larger caliber receive $2 per month extra for the first class, and $1 per month for the second class. For guns of four to seven inches in the navy the gun pointers receive $3 per month for the first class and $5 per month for the second class, and for three inch or smaller caliber, first class gunners get $4 per month and the second class $2 per month extra. The gunners for the coast artillery for all caliber of guns receive only $2 per month extra for first class gunners and $1 per month for second class. These figures show that the most poorly paid naval gun pointers receive the same additional compensation as that given to the most highly paid coast artillery gunner.

"Of the forces authorized by law," said Senator Warren, chairman of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, "the artillery corps is short from thirty to forty per cent because of the inability of the recruiting department of the army to keep the artillery supplied with recruits. This is due to the fact that these men are called on to do so much in consequence of a shortage of men, and get such little compensation for their labor that they will not enlist. Many of them desert before their time expires and the officers are becoming somewhat discouraged. Congress has been adding to the defenses from time to time and turning over to the artillery new fortifications and new works, new electrical installations and new searchlights until it is about to give way under the burden. It can not properly meet the responsibility that is accumulating about it."

The war department has ruled that the expense of procuring or preparing abstracts and title papers to lands to be purchased for target ranges and shooting galleries, the cost of necessary services and any other legitimate expenses entailed in securing the consent of owners to sell are proper charges against the state, provided the purchase of the land involved is accomplished. Any buildings essential for storage purposes or for housing caretakers on a state rifle range would be a legitimate charge against the rifle practice appropriation, but the erection of barracks for the accommodation of the state militia is a matter for the state to take care of.

The war department has recommended to the House Committee on Military Affairs legislation providing for the equipment of the militia with the type of rifle used by the army whenever such type is changed. At the present time the regular army is equipped with what is known as the New Springfield, while the militia is using the old Krag. The war department is issuing new Springfields to the militia but is charging the cost against the appropriation for the militia to exchange the new guns for the Krag as was done when the Krag replaced the old Springfield, and also to provide that the war department can do this in the future without additional legislation. It is pointed out by the department that in time of war it is absolutely necessary that the volunteer army and the regular army should be equipped with the same rifle and that is very advisable in time of peace as otherwise two kinds of cartridges must be manufactured. It is impossible to remodel the Krag into a Springfield.

In a thoughtful article on rifle practice, the London Spectator points out that it supplies an excellent exercise for the chest and lungs. One of the first things the young rifle shot has to learn is how to take a deep breath and then hold the breath while the rifle is kept absolutely steady and the finger is gradually tightening on the trigger. Any form of recreation which trains the muscles of the arm and exercises the chest and lungs would seem likely to be beneficial to health; but if that is not enough there is that unequalled training which rifle shooting gives to the eye and to the hand working on the eye. THE SMOOT AFFAIR

In the United States Senate one of the most perplexing questions that confront the Senators is the Smoot case. Arguments pro and con have been made in this important matter, but until yesterday Smoot's colleague, Senator Sutherland of Utah, has remained quiet. On Tuesday, however, he broke his silence and made a telling address on the subject. This speech on such an important question is reprinted in part below. It puts a new light upon the question not hitherto shown.

"I am not here to justify wrongdoing in my own state," he said, "any more than I am here to justify wrongdoing in any other state. Whoever may be thus employed must bear his own responsibilities." He said if Smoot was a violator of the law, either as principal or accessory, or recognized any allegiance to any power paramount to the allegiance he owed his flag and country, or if by reason of his conduct he was so morally unfit that his continued presence in the senate would be a reproach or shame upon it, he should not retain his seat, otherwise he should.

"In public understanding," said Mr. Sutherland, "Smoot was a polygamist and notwithstanding the fact that this charge originally made by one man, had been repudiated by everybody connected with the case, it was still asserted in the newspapers and was given general credence in the country. In all probability this belief that Smoot was a polygamist, had much to do with the vast number of petitions which have been presented to the senate." Mr. Sutherland declared that however numerous these petitions, senators could not afford to be swayed from a just determination of the case upon its merits. Each of us must render his judgment after a dispassionate consideration of the evidence and a judicial determination of the truth.

Discussing the charge, that Smoot had taken an oath as apostle that conflicted with his obligations as a senator, the senator stated that this charge had originally been made by the same man, who had charged Smoot with polygamy, and that of the five witnesses who testified to it, four had been sworn by uncontradicted evidence to be persons of bad repute, drunkards, or of unsound mind. There was a large amount of evidence, said he, given by thoroughly reputable citizens of the state, to the effect that no such oath was taken, and that taking all of the testimony together this charge was utterly discredited.

The two charges remaining were that polygamy and polygamous cohabitation were still being practiced by adherents of the Mormon church and that the church interfered in political and temporal matters. As to the first charge, the speaker traced the history with reference to the growth of polygamy until its final abandonment by the church in 1890. He stated that the government of the United States as well as the people of the United States were entitled to the assurance of polygamy. He took the position that it was recognized, in the main, that the people who had entered into this unlawful relation did so under a religious delusion; that they were good men and good women, though, of course, utterly mistaken in their views respecting this matter, and said:

"An erroneous religious belief is the most difficult thing in the world to combat. It submits to no rule of logic; it is simply major and minor premise and conclusion rolled into one dogmatic declaration, 'thus saith the Lord.' Such a belief does not yield to the appeal of reason; it simply runs its course like a case of typhoid fever."

Briefly reviewing some of the famous religious delusions of the past, such as the Crusades, Spanish inquisition, witchcraft and others, the speaker said that "from the beginning the melancholy fact runs through all history that nothing has been too absurd and nothing too cruel to be believed, taught and done in the name of religion."

or households; that some of these people had resumed their former associations was beyond doubt. As a general thing, it had been thought that so long as these relations were not flagrant—not flaunted in the face of the community—that while they were not approved but were deplored—it was a hard situation to meet, and all things considered, it was better for the state to bear with it in patience until the people who occupied these relations, in the process of time, should pass away. He quoted the testimony of numerous witnesses upon both sides to this effect.

As to the charge that there have been polygamous marriages since the manifesto, he said that he had no means of knowing how many such cases there might have been, but that there had been some he had no doubt. These men occupied a wholly different position from the old polygamists; for them no word of excuse or toleration could be uttered by any honest man. "Every one of those men," he declared, "who thus arrogantly defies legislative enactment and violates religious command and by his conduct brings shame and reproach upon all the people deserves to be searched out and to receive in punishment the extreme penalty of the law. The vast majority of the Mormon people are opposed to these new marriages."

Discussing the question of the interference of the church in political matters, he traced the history in this respect, showing that when the Mormon people went to Utah in 1847 their movement possessed all the characteristics of a religious exodus. In the beginning they probably felt no need of a civil government at all. "Their religion to them was everything and other matters were of subordinate concern," he said. "For twenty years they were isolated from the world. There were no telegraphs, no railroads, no newspapers except their own. When a civil government was formed the religious leaders became their civil officers. As time went on the rule of the church became more and more until the government in Utah was a virtual theocracy. The Gentiles who organized under the name of the liberal party fought to overthrow polygamy, and church control in government matters with the Mormon people in opposition organized the people's party. For twenty years the fight which was waged was altogether prochurch and antichurch in character. Finally, in 1891, after the manifesto on the subject of polygamy, the people's party was abandoned and organizations effected along national party lines. Since that time, and while he believed that there had been some instances of interference on the part of leading officials of the church in political matters, on the whole there had been marvelous advance."

In electing officers the Gentiles had not been, on the ground that they were Gentiles, unfairly treated by Mormon voters, said Mr. Sutherland. He thought that there was at least no more disposition on the part of Mormons to vote against Gentiles than there was on the part of Gentiles to vote against Mormons. Summing up the situation he said: "I do not say that conditions are perfect in Utah, they are not perfect anywhere, but I do say that conditions are immeasurably better today than they have ever been before and they will be better in the future than they are today. I do not claim that there are no evils among the people; some remnant of the old objectionable conditions still persist, but I do claim that these evils are fewer in number and less in extent than they have ever been before, and in my judgment, it is only a matter of a short time until they will be eradicated altogether."

Mr. Sutherland declared that any charge that life or property was in the slightest degree unsafe in Utah, that the people or any of them taught their children to disrespect the flag, or that there was any feeling of hostility toward the general government, was a cruel falsehood. He instanced the fact that when the war was declared with Spain, Mormon and Gentiles alike enlisted in large numbers. The Utah National Guard, a grandson of Brigham Young, and as brave and loyal and splendid a gentleman as ever wore the uniform of a soldier, won for themselves in the Philippines a name of heroic and imperishable glory.

Mr. Smoot himself, said Mr. Sutherland, had always insisted that the practice of polygamy should be abandoned; had never been a polygamist, and not a line of testimony could be found which indicated that he had ever advocated the practice of polygamy. He said that Mr. Smoot's whole life had been clean and above reproach; that the demand of the petitions that he should be removed from the U. S. senate in order that he might not from that exalted place make war upon the American home, was hysteria pure and simple.

It would appear that a few more men that the Jamaican Governor showed a lack of judgment during the quake at Kingston. The Englishman who turned the sick and dying from his ship while he and his friends drank and made merry should be more than criticised.

Evidently England would cut all red tape in reference to the insult to Admiral Davis and make an abject apology for the man who represents them in Jamaica.

Secretary Taft says he considers Secretary Root as one of the greatest secretaries of state this country has ever seen.

Lt. Governor Connor is the man of silence and mystery of the present session. He knows enough to keep his own counsel on important matters.

Even if he is not the speaker, Eddie LeRoy promises to make himself felt in the present session of the legislature.

The aldermen want that five per cent after all. It is up to the Mayor now to sign the order for them.

So Janesville has not outgrown its old charter and does not need a new one after all.

PRESS COMMENT.

La Crosse Leader-Press: If Senator Spooner did nothing else, he would be worth retaining in congress just to keep "Pitchfork" Tillman in order. No other man in the upper house is a match for the South Carolina member in rough and tumble debate.

Probable Date of Walsh's Trial Oshkosh Northwestern: After more than a year's delay after the closing of his bank, John R. Walsh of Chicago has been indicted by a federal grand jury for alleged misconduct in the management of the financial affairs of that institution. If further action is as dilatory in the case of Mr. Walsh he is likely to die of old age before being brought to trial.

Pay of Oshkosh Aldermen Oshkosh Northwestern: An annoying little error crept into an editorial statement last evening, to the effect that the local aldermen receive $4 each for each meeting of the council they attend. The editor must have been thinking of the good times coming when our aldermen will be paid in keeping with the high dignity of their official position. As yet, it appears, the aldermanic pay is only a paltry $10 per month, with a deduction of $2 for each member of the council who fails to attend. On this basis the special sessions of the council cost "practically nothing," as one of the aldermen remarked last night, and it is probably not to be wondered at that some of the members resent the intimation going abroad that their pay is $4 per session, when in reality they fail to "get" it.

At Least That Much Eau Claire Leader: The president has now started a Canadian question, sending Secretary Root over to call on Governor General Grey and settle up some outstanding differences without reference to red-tape procedure. In about a month or so some of the senators will be kicking up a furor over the matter. Or is it about two months that the President keeps ahead of the senatorial game?

Beloit College Wronged Beloit Free Press: Instead of the faculty combining to express opposition to the return of President Eaton, they have expressed a loyalty to him, and the college that not only must be very gratifying to all the friends of the college, and which, foreshadows the harmony that will mark the rapid growth of this important educational institution when President Eaton again assumes the duties of the chief officer. The statement of the Beloit Daily News, for in publishing it without any effort to verify it, the News makes the Star's statement its own—is absolutely false, and in the publication, it has again shown its utter disregard of the interests of institution or citizen in its pursuit of sensation or to accomplish some personal and selfish end.

Words of commendation are acceptable to anyone and the Printing Department of the Gazette is no outside the pall of appreciation in this regard. The book was artistically illustrated and the printing in double tone effect produced a striking piece of work. A letter from McLay Brothers today refers to the new catalogue and says that, "We are daily receiving compliments on the book by letter and through the agricultural press."

A short time since a quantity of special catalogues were furnished the Janesville Carriage Works for their various wholesale customers. One of these customers acknowledging receipt of the books compliments the Janesville Carriage Works on the skill and good taste displayed in producing their book. ## CELEBRATION TALKED ON JULY THE FOURTH

Many of the Citizens Favor the Idea of Celebrating This Year Again.

Since it was announced the Spanish War Veterans talked of holding a Fourth of July celebration, there has been considerable quiet talk among the citizens regarding the advisability of holding another celebration similar to those of past years. The general opinion has favored the plan and it is probable that a meeting will be called soon of those interested to discuss plans and arrange for committees to handle the affair. Janesville received an endless amount of advertising in magazines and papers at the time of the last celebration and thousands of visitors were here despite the rainy day. It is thought that if a celebration is to be held the earlier it is talked of the better it will be and the easier to arrange for.

BANK STOCK

Unlike other corporation stock carries with it a double liability. That is for every dollar's worth of stock a man holds in a banking corporation he may be called upon to pay another dollar. Surplus and undivided profits carry with them no such liability.

The National Banking Act recognizes this distinction and requires all national banks in cities of Janesville's size to have a capital of at least $100,000. This bank's capital is $100,000 and the stockholders are liable for $100,000 more, the surplus and profits are $70,000, a total of $270,000, which protects your money if deposited in this bank.

We pay three per cent interest on certificates of deposit.

Profitable Poultry.

If you are keeping poultry for profit you must feed properly. Our Mixed Grain for laying hens is as near perfect as is possible to make it. Your hens can not do their best on a corn and barley diet. They must have variety—and variety is what you will find at our store. In addition to mixed grains poultry must have some kind of meat in order to do their best. The ground Beef Scraps we keep fills the bill exactly, and many of our customers who commenced feeding it ten days ago, are already getting splendid results. The Cut Red Clover we keep is also a very valuable food. Then don't forget they must have plenty of good Mica Grit and Shell. It's these little things that count in keeping poultry for profit.

No Matter—But Who Did It?
Green Bay Gazette: There appears to be a grave question as to who threw LeRoy in the speakership contest. It was claimed at the time of the caucus that the work was done by La Follette men at the senator's instigation. Since that time, however, it has been repeatedly intimated that it was in reality Uncle Ike himself who "did the dark deed." But now that it is all over it really does not matter much to anyone except LeRoy himself, and he does not seem to mind it much.

One Man Who Rose Despite a Silver Spoon

A Railroad President Who Is Considerate and a Multimillionaire Who Is Courteous

Stuyvesant Fish, Former Head of the Illinois Central and Harriman's Opponent in a Railroad War, Is Big All Over, Level Headed and Democratic in His Tastes—Would Rather Hunt Ducks Than Attend a Social Function—Novel Entertainments Given by Mrs. F. H. Who Aspires to Be Society's Leader

By ROBERTUS LOVE.

In the on-coming of Stuyvesant Fish from the presidency of the Illinois Central railroad more issues appear to be involved than in the language of Abraham Lincoln or somebody else, you can shake a stick at. The event is interesting both socially and sociologically.

If reports may be credited the ambition of Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish to become the "leader of society" was used by E. H. Harriman to encompass the defeat of Mr. Fish. This matter affects personally only the Four Hundred who constitute society with a big "S" as it consists in New York city and at Newport. But in the sociological trend of the incident are concerned life insurance, Standard Oil and other interests of importance to the general public. This the vote of the eight Illinois Central directors who removed Mr. Fish on the 7th of November affects practically as many persons, in some degree, as did the general elections throughout the country the preceding day.

Two Set Purposes Achieved.

By the removal of Mr. Fish from the railroad presidency, which he has held for nearly twenty years, Mr. Harriman achieves two set purposes. He extends his railroad holdings so that he is now master of 25,000 miles of railroad and $2,500,000,000 capital, and the purchase of Stuyvesant Fish for that gentleman's admirable obstinacy in refusing, at Harriman's demand, to serve as a dummy in the attempted dummy investigation of the Mutual Life Insurance company from the inside. Har-

He is six feet four inches long and would be that high were it not for a perceptible stoop, said to be due to the lifelong necessity of getting his ear down low enough to hear the talk of average sized men.

Mr. Fish is big all over. His face is large, his head is large, his frame is large, and his whole aspect and bearing give one the distinct impression of a thoroughly masculine type. He is not at all the sort of man one might naturally assume to be the husband of the woman who aspires to be the acknowledged and absolute queen of social swiftness in America. Yet that is Mrs. Fish's aspiration.

While Mr. Fish has been building up the Illinois Central railroad Mrs. Fish has been establishing herself as a social leader. By common consent Mrs. Astor, now seventy-six years old, is the present leader. In an interview at St. Louis three years ago, when Mrs. Astor was only seventy-three, Mrs. Fish was asked if she were a rival of Mrs. Astor. She replied:

"What? I a rival of Mrs. Astor? Why, she's eighty years old. She's more than that. She's eighty-four!"

Nevertheless Mrs. Fish for some years has held receptive shoulders for the mantle of the aged queen, and thereby hangs a part of the present tale. John Jacob Astor and Cornelius Vanderbilt are Illinois Central directors. Young Mrs. Astor and Mrs. Vanderbilt would like to lead the Four Hundred. Mrs. Fish has far outdistanced them in her strides toward the throne. Harriman needed votes to remove Fish. He became a diplomat.

man already was president of a dozen railroads, and three or four steamship companies, with practically absolute power over many other companies, and it is held by astute Wall street men that the Standard Oil company is behind him in all his operations. Mr. Harriman, it is true, was chosen president of the Illinois Central, but the name sounds so much like Harriman that it fits in finely with the fact that Harriman and not Harriman is now running the Illinois Central.

Stuyvesant Fish is now very "widely and favorably" known. He is an international character. The bold stand he took in favor of insurance policy holders as against the machinations of plunderers when he resigned from the Mutual Life and took up the fight for investigation from the outside made him of international size. There are so few other big fishes of this sort in the financial seas that it is quite worth while to tank Stuyvesant Fish in the public aquarium for a brief inspection.

The Fish family is a big family in America. It dates back to our foundation as a republic. Nicholas Fish was a corps commander in the Revolutionary war. Later he was the firm friend and executor of Alexander Hamilton, after whom he named his son. This Hamilton Fish was President Grant's secretary of war for eight years after serving as congressman, governor of New York and United States senator. His son Nicholas became a distinguished diplomat. His son Hamilton made a wide reputation as a politician and parliamentarian. One of the first American soldiers to fall in Cuba during the war of 1898 was Hamilton Fish 3d.

Big All Over.

Stuyvesant Fish is the youngest son of the great secretary of state. He has struck out in new waters. He appears never to have had any taste for politics, and there was no war during his fighting age, so he became a financier. Physically he is big enough to stand proxy for his whole historic family.

Chances for Flirtations. "Four good-looking sons in the family." This is the last sentence of an advertisement for a girl, for a dairy farm, which appears in a New Zealand newspaper.

He is nothing of a society man himself, cannot even wear his clothes so that they look as if he ordered them to his measure, and doesn't care the snap of his finger for anything on earth except more power as a railroad man. Harriman, it is alleged, talked pleasantly to the ladies and induced them to get their husbands to vote against Fish in order to weaken the struggle of Mrs. Fish for the society leadership. All that sounds like the outline of a chapter on European court intrigue, but such is the story they are now telling in New York.

Gave a Duck Pond Dinner.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish truly is an interesting person. She is very unconventional despite her social aspirations. She set out from the start to be a reformer rather than a conformer. The first thing she did in society was to give a dinner with a pond in the center of a table whereon little live ducks floated. Ward McAllister, who invented the Four Hundred fiction, was then the official drum major of society. He was horrified by the duck pond dinner and read Mrs. Fish out of society. The lady had a spirit. She defied Ward McAllister and plunged right into the middle of society and became so popular as an entertainer that McAllister was compelled to put the Fishes on his famous list when he made it up. That was more than twenty years ago. As the Fish wealth increased the social advance of Mrs. Fish kept pace.

Mrs. Fish likes to do things differently. She required the swiftest residence in New York, so she built a reproduction of the palace of the Doges at Venice, filling it with choice and costly art works. One of her first receptions there was a theatrical entertainment "A Chinese Moonmoon" being the play. It was a social novelty. But the harvest home festival which she gave at her Newport summer home six years ago was a still greater novelty. All the guests came dressed as farmers and peasants, bringing to Mrs. Fish as the lady of the manor a suitable present. One millionaire swain brought a live pig, which escaped and ran between the feet of a milkmaid worth $7,000,000 in her own right. The milkmaid shrieked and let go of the rope which held the suckling calf she had brought to Mrs. Fish. This caused the chickens to cackle and the geese to quack, and together it was a very realistic affair.

The Shallowness of Fame. It is a shock to the man who thinks that he is world-famous to discover that there are people in the next block who never heard of him.—The Bohemian.

There is something refreshing in Mrs. Fish's candor. She says what she means. "I should not like to be the wife of a president of the United States," she once remarked to a reporter, "for I might have to eat with negroes."

To the same newspaper man she gave several of her set opinions, requesting him to write them just as she said them, and here they are: "I do not believe in equality. It would never do. There always will be classes in this country. We are coming more and more to have an aristocracy and a common people. I do not believe in being too democratic."

As to Newport, Mrs. Fish said: "Newport just now is paying too much attention to foreign lords. I think that this country is making itself ridiculous in regard to titles. I think it foolish."

First Worked as a Clerk.

Stuyvesant Fish went to work as a clerk in the New York offices of the Illinois Central railroad when he was twenty years old and just out of Columbia college. It is said that he received $3 a week at first, and his father made him an allowance of $50 a month for his living expenses. This allowance was small not through necessity of course, but as a matter of discipline. Mrs. Fish likes to tell about her husband's early "struggles." Once she was visiting the Drexel family at Nice. There was a dinner party, one of the guests being a little Saxon prince. Mrs. Fish told how her husband had worked up to the presidency of the Illinois Central, beginning as a cheap clerk.

"Why," exclaimed the prince, "I had always heard that your husband came from a fine family!"

Some of the guests gasped, but Mrs. Fish retorted quite good naturedly: "Oh, yes, he does; but, you see, in America it is not a disgrace to work. How much better it would be if those conditions prevailed in Europe! We in America would be spared so many titled nouveties."

It used to be quite the fashion for teachers and preachers and editors to point to multimillionaires as conspicuous examples of successful men, telling anecdotes relating to their humble beginnings in the business of multiplying millions. Stuyvesant Fish, scarcely could serve as a model for that sort of preaching, for there never was a time when he was in humble circumstances, not even when he walked to the Illinois Central offices and back to save car fare so that he could eat better dinners out of that paternal allowance which he first began work. Back of him were Fish millions and Stuyvesant millions, for he is descended from sturdy old Peter Stuyvesant, the peg leg governor of New Amsterdam, who got in on the ground floor in New York real estate long before the Astors and the Vanderbilts came to the surface. Stuyvesant Fish, both as to finance and family prestige, was born with a silver spoon in his mouth big enough to be called a soup ladle.

So we cannot set him upon a pedestal as one who came to town with a patch and 30 cents in his pants and arose to world wide distinction. But as a man and worked hard after getting a press good start by the accident of birth we may point to Mr. Fish. He seems all ways to have been level headed, and successes have not put his head out of plumb. Stuyvesant Fish is essentially a democratic individual, as becomes the son of one who was General Grant's close friend and adviser. He has a reputation as one of the most courteous and considerate multimillionaires in the business, and any newspaper man who has had occasion to meet Mr. Fish will testify to this fact. In his office he calls the men Dick and Jim instead of mistleling them, and that is not done in a patronizing manner, but because Stuyvesant Fish is just that way. He never got stuck up.

Likes to Be Courteous.

Sometimes, when he can't help it, Mr. Fish goes to his wife's social functions. He likes to be courteous. Every day he goes to business, and frequently he stays until all the others have gone home. Just now he is busy at his new offices, having given up his old offices to his successor, preparing his case against the Harriman contingent for the recovery of control in the Illinois Central. There is every indication of a stiff fight, and Mr. Fish is not calculated to let his plans go off half cocked.

"I used to have a law down south," he says, "who would say to me when there was something unusually difficult to a legal problem, 'Stuy, I want to go out in my back lot and sit down on a log and chew tobacco, but I sometimes go up to my farm and go out in my back lot and do some hard thinking.'"

His "farm" is the Fish homestead, acquired by Hamilton Fish the day Fort Sumter was fired upon. It is a magnificent place at Garrison-on-the-Hudson, opposite West Point. Mrs. Fish declares her intention of making this place a country seat of European swiftness, so that she may live there instead of at Newport and do more new things when she shall become the actual leader of society. As to Stuyvesant Fish, he would rather go duck hunting any day than put on evening clothes and look conspicuous at a "function" on account of his size.

SENATOR BAILEY IS REELECTED

TEXAS LEGISLATURE SENDS HIM
BACK TO WASHINGTON.

VOTE STANDS 108 TO 45

Cullom Is Named in Illinois—Oregon Chooses Mulkey and Bourne for Senators—Elections in Other States.

Austin, Tex., Jan. 23.—Joseph W. Bailey was Tuesday reelected United States senator from this state by a vote, in the two branches of the state legislature, of 108 to 45. In the senate the vote was 19 in favor of Senator Bailey and ten against him, and in the lower house he received 89 votes and 35 were cast against him.

The vote in opposition to Bailey represented a scattering vote, cast for Cecil Lyon, the Republican nominee; Gov. T. M. Campbell, former representative A. W. Terrell and other prominent men of the state. In the house seven members present did not vote and two were absent.

Has a Good Margin.

The vote necessary to an election is 53 votes and Tuesday's result thus returns Senator Bailey to the United States senate for a term of six years. The two houses will meet in joint session Wednesday to canvass the vote.

The opponents of Senator Bailey made an effort in the house Tuesday morning to secure the adoption of a resolution providing that should the legislature vote unanimously for the election of Bailey, the latter should submit his name to let people vote in a special primary to be held within the next 30 days for a review of the charges preferred against him, and that should the result be adverse to him, he would resign. This proposition was not accepted by the friends of Senator Bailey, and its further consideration was voted down by a vote of 59 to 51.

The special investigation committee of the two branches of the state legislature are engaged in considering the charges against Mr. Bailey.

Cullom Chosen in Illinois. Springfield, Ill., June 23.—Senator Shelby M. Cullom was given the majority vote of both branches of the Forty-fifth general assembly Tuesday in separate sessions, insuring his formal re-election to succeed himself as senior senator of Illinois to succeed himself for the fifth time when the legislature will meet in joint session to-day to canvass the vote.

This vote will be the final act in carrying out the voice of the people expressed at the primaries of August 4, 1906, when Senator Cullom received the popular vote over Richard Yates of Springfield. Senator Cullom was first elected in 1882.

The vote in the senate stood: 44 for Cullom, and 7 for former Justice Carroll C. Boggs. In the house the vote stood: Cullom, 58; Boggs, 61; Daniel R. Sheen (Prohibition), Peoria, 2.

Two Elected in Oregon. Salem, Ore., Jan. 23.—Frew W. Mulkey (Rep.), of Portland, was elected Tuesday to the United States senate for the short term, and Jonathan Bourne, Jr. (Rep.), of Portland, for the long term. The legislature Wednesday, in joint session, will ratify Ben Tillman.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 23.—Both houses of the legislature Tuesday re-elected B. R. Tillman to the United States senate. The election will be confirmed Wednesday in joint session.

Nelson Elected Again. St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 23.—Both houses of the Minnesota legislature voted for Knute Nelson to succeed himself as United States senator from this state Tuesday. Four Democratic senators voted for Senator Nelson, saying their districts were overwhelmingly for Nelson.

Morgan and Pettus Returned. Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 23.—The Alabama legislature, in joint session, Tuesday, re-elected Senators John T. Morgan and Edmund W. Pettus for another term. There was no opposition and they received the unanimous vote of both houses.

Wyoming Reelects Warren. Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 23.—Francis E. Warren was re-elected United States senator Tuesday, receiving 64 votes out of a total of 70.

Senator Simons Returned. Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 23.—Senator Simons was re-elected United States senator Tuesday.

CHAPTER XX.

At 9 o'clock that morning Bradley, with his head bandaged, sat in the rocking chair by the window of his chamber, looking out. On the table beside him were medicine vials, teaspoons and a penciled memorandum in Dr. Palmer's handwriting; also there were an emulsion bottle and a steaming pitcher of "pepper tea." These last were Miss Tempy's contribution. That lady herself, with a face whiter even than Bradley's own and with fingers that shook until holding a needle was next to an impossibility, was seated in a chair by the door, pretending to sew. Every now and then she looked up, seemed about to speak, and then, seeing the expression on the young man's face, remained silent. Occasionally she wiped her eyes with her handkerchief.

Bradley went to the Point that day in spite of his partner's protests and the old maid's pleadings and direful prophecies concerning his health. He was kind, but so firm that they soon saw there was no use arguing.

Ira Sparrow took Bradley and Captain Titcomb to the Point in the You and I. Bearse, Ellis and some of the other men went with them. On the way Bradley and his partner discussed the situation. The work on the barge was going on as if nothing had happened, although the news of the firm's loss had been telephoned to the life saving station early that morning. pened, although the news of the firm's loss had been telephoned to the life saving station early that morning. Bradley went to the Point that day in spite of his partner's protests and the old maid's pleadings and direful prophecies concerning his health. He was kind, but so firm that they soon saw there was no use arguing.

PANIC IN INDIANA TOWN

JEFFERSONVILLE TERRIFIED BY FALSE FLOOD REPORT.

Five Crevassees Are Found in the Mississippi River Levees South of New Orleans.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 23.—Jeffersonville, across the Ohio in Indiana, was thrown into a state of panic shortly before noon Tuesday when the fire department sounded an alarm that the "fill" below the reformatory had collapsed and water was pouring into the city. The report originated as the result of a telegraph pole loosening in the fill and permitting a small stream of water to run through. The "fill" is the roadbed of the Pennsylvania railroad, and cost over a million dollars.

When the bells rang and the whistles blew, it seemed as though the whole city began moving its household effects, and for nearly an hour many scenes of disorder and terror were witnessed, the people having lived in a state of alarm for ten days.

New Orleans, Jan. 23.—Seventy-five miles below New Orleans five crevassees appeared in the Mississippi levees Tuesday, the breaks ranging from 20 to 100 feet in width. The country threatened is settled by Frenchmen and oystermen accustomed to frequent overflows. Miles of oyster beds will be ruined, it is feared, for the season.

Cairo, Ill., Jan. 23.—The river Tuesday night registered a little over 47 feet and is gradually rising. The water has commenced working over the levee at Birds Point, Mo., and thousands of the finest farms in southeast Missouri will be flooded. The people in the lowlands are fleeing from their homes to the hills.

WILL INVESTIGATE BRIBERY.

Colorado Senate Starts Inquiry Into the Morgan Case.

Denver, Jan. 23.—By a vote of 17 to 12 the senate Tuesday adopted a resolution for the appointment of a special committee of three members to investigate the alleged bribing of Senator Richard Morgan two years ago. The accusation of bribery is based on a statement made by Senator Morgan himself during the Adams-Pocahontas gubernatorial contest, when he asserted that he had received $750 from the representatives of the Colorado & Southern railway on condition that he should vote for Adams.

Bank Robbed, Thieves Caught.—Green Cove Springs, Fla., Jan. 23.—The safe in the bank here was dynamited early Tuesday and robbed of $1,500 to $1,800. Sheriff Weeks and posse came upon four white men near a road eight miles south of here during the day. The men began firing, the posse returned, the fire, fatally wounding one of the men and overpowering the other three. Between $3,000 and $4,000 was found in the pockets of the men.

No More Free Seeds.—Washington, Jan. 23.—The house committee on agriculture decided Tuesday to recommend the discontinuance of free seed distribution by congress. Instead of appropriating the customary $250,000 for this purpose the committee will advise that this sum of money be used for the purchase of rare seeds to be distributed by the department of agriculture.

Refuse to Endorse President.—Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 23.—The house of representatives Tuesday refused to adopt a resolution endorsing the action of President Roosevelt in the discharge of the enlisted negroes who participated in the Brownsville riots. The resolution was introduced by Senator Legate, a Republican, and passed the upper house by a unanimous vote.

Complain of Brutal Husbands.—Twenty-seven women complained on one day to the police magistrate of Tottenham, London, of having been beaten or kicked by their husbands.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliancy vanish like the bloom from a flower which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. Few young women appreciate the shock of the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. More than a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and make its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic, and strengthening nerve, nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Bad Symptoms. The woman who has periodic headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily started or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife, if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional indorsement of each of its several ingredients—worth more than any number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best of agents known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol.

harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as complete and correct.

In any condition of the female system Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate, and regulate the whole female system, and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of the "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles, will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Doctor's All Agree. The most eminent writers on Materia Medica, whose works are consulted as authorities by physicians of all the different schools of practice, extol, in the most positive terms, the curative virtues of each and every ingredient entering into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. In fact it is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for the cure of all diseases of the mucous surfaces, as nasal catarrh, throat, laryngeal, and bronchial affections attended by lingering, or hang-on-coughs that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any amount of lay or non-professional testimonials.

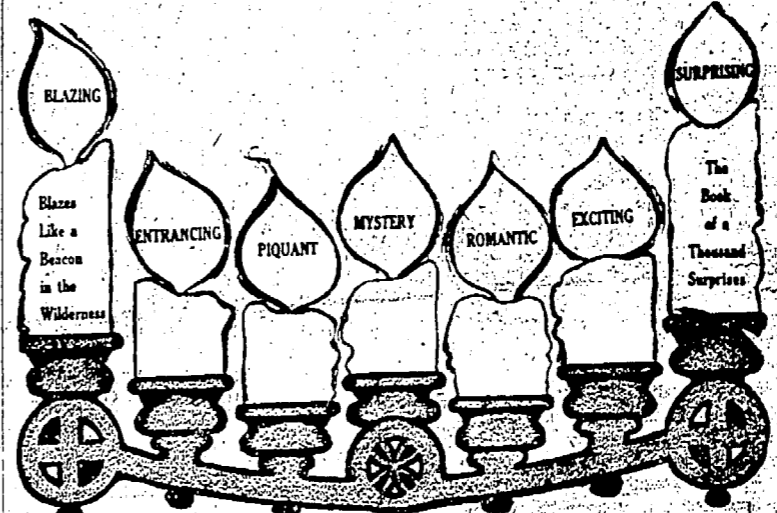

Do not expect too much from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It will not work miracles. Nor is the "Discovery" so good for a sudden attack of acute cough, but for the lingering, obstinate, hang-on-coughs, accompanying catarrh of throat, larynx, and bronchial affections. It is a most efficacious remedy. In cases accompanied with wasting of flesh, night sweats, weak stomach and poor digestion with faulty assimilation, and which, if neglected or badly treated are apt to lead to consumption, the "Discovery" has proven wonderfully successful in effecting cures.

The formula is printed on every wrapper of "Golden Medical Discovery" attested as to correctness under oath, and you can't afford to accept any substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret remedy, no matter what selfish interests may prompt the dealer to urge such upon you. In fact, it is an insult to your intelligence for him to do so. You know what you want and it is his place to supply that want.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce, over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. They cleanse, invigorate, and regulate stomach, liver and bowels, curing biliousness and constipation. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent, free on receipt of 21 recent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

AMERICANS SCORE CAPT. PARSONS

KINGSTON REFUGEES TELL OF HEARTLESS CONDUCT.

EJECTED FROM STEAMER

on Docks—Swettenham Wires
Thanks—American Tents Supplied.

New York, Jan. 23.—American refugees from Kingston, Jamaica, arriving here Tuesday on board the steamer Prinz Eitel Friedrich which sailed from the stricken city on Thursday afternoon last, the third day after the earthquake, were unanimous in condemning what they termed the "inactivity and utter inefficiency" of the English authorities on the island during the first days following the disaster.

For three days, or up to the day the Prinz Eitel sailed, they said, there was no semblance of order and nothing definite done in the matter of relieving the sufferings of many of the wounded.

Put Off the Port Kingston.
It was asserted that men and women who sought shelter on board the British steamship Port Kingston, which was chartered for Sir Alfred Jones' party from England, were put ashore, and that the plea of American refugees that the women of their party be allowed the privilege of sleeping on the open decks of the Port Kingston was refused "with great incivility." The wounded who had been taken on board the same steamer for an asylum were put ashore the day following the earthquake, Tuesday, and were left on the railway wharf until cared for by the American naval authorities on Thursday.

The Prinz Eitel's passengers told of the great relief the arrival of the American squadron brought to the terror-stricken people, and were amazed to hear of the rupture which has occurred between Gov. Swettenham and Admiral Davis.

Formal Protest Made.
The protest of the American refugees against the conduct and behavior of certain officials on the island, was voiced at a mass meeting held on board the Prinz Eitel Friedrich Monday when resolutions were adopted and addressed, "To the General Public and the International Press." The resolutions follow:

"We, a company of American refugees of Kingston, January 14, January, 1907, on board the steamship Prinz Eitel Friedrich, herewith utter emphatic condemnation of the conduct and behavior of certain officials of rank, specifically, Capt. Parsons, commander of the British steamship Port Kingston, lying in the harbor of Kingston, and aboard which was Sir Alfred Jones, his superior, and other officials, basing our contentions on the following counts:

"First—That Capt. Parsons declined to furnish food for one meal to the small number of Germans, led by Capt. Richard, Vahsel, Hamburg-American line, who prevented four docks from burning on the night of the 14th, among them the Port Kingston's own wharf.

"Second—That such American and other refugees as the small boats manned by Capt. Vahsel and others, gathered and lodged on Monday on board the Port Kingston were summarily ordered ashore at four p. m. Tuesday to make room for English refugees, though women and children, tearfully pleaded that they had no food nor clothing on shore.

"Third—That the wounded of mixed nationalities were taken ashore at the same hour and left in a crude situation on the Railway wharf until cared for by American naval authorities on Thursday, except such as were removed by train to Spanish Town, or by relatives who found them.

"Fourth—That when Fathers O'Donovan, of Boston; Gavin, of Indianapolis, and Rev. H. F. Auld, of Hattboro, Pa., took a petition to Sir Alfred Jones and Capt. Parsons from the refugees, sleeping on trunks, sacks of coffee and the cargo-touled planks of the Hamburg-American dock, to allow the said refugees to go on board the Port Kingston, then at her dock, and sleep on her bare, clean decks, where they would be safe from recurrent earthquake shocks, Capt. Parsons refused with great incivility, and coming to the Hamburg-American dock showed the party further discourtesy.

"Fifth—That in the three days, though Sir Alfred Jones and his party on board the Port Kingston had all the comforts of a large, well-equipped ship, no tender was made either of food, water, coffee, bedding or medical assistance.

Americans Were Ignored.

"Sixth—That in three days, save for the above unpleasant visit of Capt. Parsons, no official visit was paid either by the police, military or colonial authorities to the large body of American refugees on the Hamburg-American docks, the known center for American refugees in Kingston, to offer succor or protection in any degree, or even to ascertain the condition in which they were.

"Seventh—That in individual cases and minor ways we were made to feel the superiority and first-claim of the English, and found the much talked of 'bonds of blood and language,' when tested, to be a mockery and diplomatic phantom.

"Therefore, we declare our resentment and condemnation, this utterance being the joint expression of the passengers in common assembly on board the Prinz Eitel Friedrich January 21, 1907."

Sections six and seven were "excused for reasons of policy," when the resolutions were first adopted, but later reinstated.

Women Slept on Dock.

The Americans had to wait for the arrival of the Prinz Eitel at Kingston, and during that time all of them slept on the Hamburg-American dock.

"We lay down on the planks and on sacks, piles of which reached almost to the ceiling," said A. D. Hallman of Norristown, Pa., who was one of the 112 passengers on the Prinz Eitel. "The men were glad enough to get any shelter, but with the Port Kingston lying nearby, her decks clean and empty, we thought the captain might take the women on board. He refused, however, as the resolutions state."

Governor Wires Thanks.

Washington, Jan. 23.—An expression of gratitude from Gov. Swettenham, of Jamaica, for the sympathy and aid extended by the United States to the victims of the disaster on that island, the publication of the text of a graceful note from Esme Howard, the British charge here, conveying the regrets of Sir Edward Grey, the British principal secretary of state, on account of the incident, and a cabled report from American Vice Consul Orrett, at Kingston, were among Tuesday's developments in the controversy between the governor and Rear Admiral Davis, commanding the relief squadron which went to Kingston.

While Gov. Swettenham's message is couched in the most polite terms, the British authorities, nevertheless, are not through with the matter so far as the governor is concerned. In his letter, Mr. Howard takes occasion to inform this government that his majesty's government are causing official inquiries to be made as to the authenticity of the letter credited to Gov. Swettenham.

Americans Supply Tents.

An interesting chapter was admitted to the case Tuesday, when it became known that on January 20, after Admiral Davis and his ships had sailed from Kingston, Gen. Wint, commanding the army of pacification in Cuba, on request of the acting British minister at Havana, transmitted through Gov. Magoon, had sent to Kingston five hospital tents and flies, 23 wall tents and flies, and 52 conical wall tents, all complete. These had been reported by the British authorities as urgently required.

Secretary Taft was prompt to give his approval upon his arrival here Monday morning from South Carolina, and it is understood the tents are now on their way to Kingston.

Vice Consul Orrett Tuesday sent the following cablegram summarizing the situation in Jamaica:

"Secretary of State, Washington, D. C.—No loss of life at any of the hotels at Montego Bay, Port Antonio, Interior towns, Knutsford Park, Constant Springs, or any other hotel, except at Myrtle Bank hotel, which was completely wrecked. Many deaths occurred there, chiefly among the employees.

"None of the names mentioned in your cablegram in death list so far published. Many bodies have been found in the business portion of the city, which was devastated by fire, were burned beyond recognition.

"Consultation opened to-day. Another shock this afternoon. No damage. Trains running. Two piers saved."

Want Governor Recalled.

Kingston, Jamaica, Jan. 23.—The publication in the Daily Telegraph of Gov. Swettenham's letter to Rear Admiral Davis has greatly intensified the resentment of the residents against the governor for rebuffing the tenders of American assistance, and there is a movement on foot here to demand the recall of the governor.

A small minority, mostly officials, support Gov. Swettenham and their views were voiced Tuesday by the Rev. Mr. Graham, pastor of the Methodist church, who declared that the governor was justified in resenting the landing of Americans. "This is a British colony, not Cuba or a Spanish-American republic," he said.

His Sarcasm "Jocular."

A correspondent sought Gov. Swettenham and spoke to him of the Davis incident. The governor said that he had not invited Rear Admiral Davis to land sailors. Asked if he endorsed the action taken by Rear Admiral Davis, the governor replied: "That is a matter between myself and Rear Admiral Davis, to whom I must refer you." The governor said that his reference in his letter to Admiral Davis to a tramp pillaging the house of a New York millionaire was merely a jocular parallel.

Dr. Enos Nuttall, archbishop of Jamaica, says if he finds the conditions warrant he will send a personal explanatory cablegram to President Roosevelt.

Found Dead and Mutilated.

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 23.—The naked and terribly mutilated body of William Heston was found Tuesday hanging from a rafter in a shack at Mud Lake, a few miles northwest of South Bend. A bloody butcher knife lay on a table near by. To add to the mystery, the door and windows of the shack were locked from the inside.

Secretary Root Starts Home.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 23.—Secretary of State Root left here at four o'clock Tuesday for Montreal, on his way to Washington.

Tornado in Oklahoma.

Blackwell, Okla., Jan. 22.—A mid-winter tornado visited this city Sunday night, totally demolishing a number of buildings and injuring several people.

The Australian steamship owners have agreed to accede to the request of the Federated Seamen's Union for increased wages.
